JUNE 2012

Several people have given their name and registration number to Eric for our display at the North Mymms Park Rose Garden on Sunday July 1st. The organizer wants us there by 1pm so that he can get us lined up in the best position probably in front of the Elizabethan manor house. The refreshments available will be tea and cakes, so you may want to take your own picnic. We intend to arrive just before 1pm so that we can all go in together, as I gather we will not be using the main entrance. The post code for any sat navs is AL9 7TN, but you should find the attached map helpful.

We were given various flyers while at the Pageant. Several shows are on our Calendar but as they all fall after the next meeting, any information about times or meeting places will get sorted out then.

It seems a long while ago that we were basking in the sunshine at the Pageant. With the awful weather that there has been this year, I think we were very lucky. We don't know yet how successful it was financially for the Museum but there were certainly plenty of people there on the Sunday. Despite a good display on both days we did not get a prize again this year.

Several shows have had to cancel this year because of the weather and ground conditions, but the Luton Festival of Transport wasn't one of them, due to good drainage on chalky soil. Only Eric and Brian F attended this year.

On the same day, Alan and Roy rode to the Ace Cafe for a Triumph motorcycle day, which was extremely busy.
