

NOVEMBER 2012

It seems that our move to the Whitewebbs Museum has been very successful, as the four meetings that we have held there so far have all seen good turnouts.

The Breakfast Run on October 7th seems a long while ago now, but the fourteen of us who went to Redcoats at Little Wymondley all enjoyed it. Doug and I left home in the XK with quite dangerously low sun shining brightly, to meet up with a few others at Bullsmoor Lane. It's a shame that we don't still have about eight to ten cars leaving from there as well as a few more from Chingford. The sunshine didn't last and it was quite a misty ride up the A10 and then across to Stevenage and one junction of the A1 and off to Little Wymondley where we met up with the others. We had a dining room all to ourselves which was quite cosy but, if as has been suggested, we go back there in the spring, I will ask if we can go in their conservatory. It was a good breakfast although a little slow at times.

A few people went to spares day at Stoneleigh as usual.

Apparently it was very cold at the Mangapps Railway Museum, not just outside, but in the railway carriage as well. I don't think the biscuit snacks warmed anybody up much either. The workshop was open to look round.

Alan and Barb went on another Whitewebbs weekend; this time to Ipswich. Apparently they had very good weather, and enjoyed a visit to an interesting transport museum.

We are booked into the Galley Hall at Hailey near Hoddesdon for our Christmas Dinner on December 8th.

There was a discussion on whether we should raise our subscription, which has been 50p per month since 1988. The cost of second class post is now also 50p so this only covers postage for the Newsletter. However, as nearly everybody now receives it by Email, it was agreed that the cost will remain the same for the time being.

I always write the Newsletter the day after the meeting and Email it straight to Roy. However we did not have a Phone line from 2nd November till 12th as cables had water damage. It was a bit frustrating to see the Newsletter sitting in "Drafts". Nice to be back in the world. Thank goodness for mobile and text.
